

Ryheam

August 1998

Ryheam is 11 years-old. He is very creative and enjoys telling stories with detailed descriptions. He is artistic and often makes paper action figures which he draws and tears out of paper. He will use these figures in imaginative play acting out stories between them. Ryheam also has action figures and ninjas that he uses to play karate. Ryheam also enjoys skateboarding and other outdoor activities.

Ryheam reports that he does enjoy attending school and really wants to do well. He has recently been very interested in Science.

Ryheam needs an adoptive home that is able to provide him with predictability. He needs a safe home environment with clear behavioral expectation and consequences for poor choices, which are immediate and consistently enforced. Ryheam has a difficult time acclimating to any changes in his routine or environment. A family will need to provided a daily home life that has routine and is very structured as Ryheam performs best in this type of environment. When there are changes to his routine, Ryheam needs explanations for the changes. He often needs reminders to complete tasks and will likely need simple explanations of requests made of him.
